OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 14, 1863.

No News.

We received no dispatches last evening, and are spared the necessity of wise and solemn comment upon the rumors which the Ananias and Sapphira institution is in the habit of circulating. Probably our readers will be grateful that they thus escape the discussion of stupid generalities or sublime humbugs, and we assure them that it is tenfold more gratifying to us to say nothing when nothing is to be said, than it is to try to excuse or justify or explain away a blunder, or to labor for the discovery of consolation in adverse reports. However, the telegraph will convey all sorts of stories, and we and our readers must take them as they come, and as they are generally so full of absurdities and contradictions that the task of reconciling and explaining them puzzles our poor brains more than is healthy, we are delighted once in a while to be relieved by their failure to reach us.

BAD FOR IDAHO OFFICE HOLDERS.—The Washington correspondent of the Sacramento Union, in a letter dated March 6th, says that no provision has been made for the payment of the expenses of the Territorial Government of Idaho, as the law creating it did not pass till after the appropriation bills had been disposed of. So the good and faithful men who have been appointed to office in that flourishing region, will be compelled to serve their country even without pay in greenbacks. It is also stated that Senators McDougal and Nesmith strongly pressed the claims of Capt. John Mullan for the office of Governor, but the rest of the Pacific delegation insisted on the appointment of Wallace. It is understood in Washington that the "road building Captain" will be the first delegate, and if it is all settled there, we hardly see why it is necessary that the people of the Territory should be disturbed or agitated upon the subject. It seems to be the fashion now-a-days for outsiders and foreigners to dictate who shall represent the people in Congress, and we do not know why Idaho should not come under the rule as well as any other district. The sooner it learns that the delegateship is a pretty foot-ball for politicians to play with, the better it will be for it and its interests. But as to the other functionaries, who stay at home and do the work, we are sorry for them, if they are to be deprived of all compensation after faithfully performing their duties, though we know that one or two of them can never, in the positions to which they are appointed, do enough to deserve their pay, even if greenbacks were worth a dollar a bushel. How absurd to make a Judge of a man merely because he is son in law of some other humbug, when he has no more legal knowledge than his father in law has honesty! But we do not intend, at least at this time, to discuss the qualifications of the officers of Idaho, and are really sorry that any should be sent there, whose fitness, capacity and integrity are in the slightest degree doubtful. There can be no question that the President presumed that he was furnishing the offices of the new Territory with worthy incumbents;—if he has not done so, somebody else deserves blame.

SLAVERY IN THE BORDER STATES.—The discussions in the Senate on the Bill which provides for compensated emancipation in Missouri, show conclusively that there is a strong Union sentiment in the border States, for their Senators are willing to remove the institution of slavery, if slavery is an obstacle to the restoration of peace. Foremost among these true patriots is Senator Henderson, of Missouri, who said:

Sir, if rebel hopes are to be gratified, if this Union is to be dissolved—and unless you are soon victorious in the field, it will be—I do not want Missouri to go with the Southern Confederacy. I would rather sacrifice the value of every slave, the value of every acre of land, everything that is of an earthly character upon its soil, than to be dragged into the hated Confederacy of this Southern Republic. I do not want a division under any circumstances. I desire, if I can, to adopt some course of policy to bring back those States, to re-unite us, to have the Mississippi river from the lakes to the Gulf of Mexico under the same flag, under the old flag of our fathers, the stars and stripes, which have given us in past time all the prosperity and all the happiness we could desire, and which in the future will do likewise.

SENATOR SHERMAN.—The following language of Senator Sherman, of Ohio, in the Senate, is practical, sensible, noble—worthy all heed from all sorts of people:

Senators may think that the President of the United States is not the ablest and best man that ever lived. I am not here either to defend or extol the President. I am not here to dispute or controvert a proposition of that kind; but, sir, he is President for four years, he is armed, and he is the only man that is armed, with all the executive authority of the United States. This country is to be saved or rent, is to be preserved or to be destroyed during his term of office. We cannot deprive him of that office. We must maintain him, support him, aid him. If I should disagree with him, I will not arraign him before the people of the country, and thus discredit and dishonor him. Rather, if he is weak, we ought to uphold him the more; if he is fickle, we ought to strengthen him by our resolution; if he lacks any of the elements necessary to constitute a great man, we ought to supply them by our courage and by our constancy.

A Just Complaint

The following letter from an Oregon soldier explains itself and intelligently sets forth the cause of difficulty and dissatisfaction which prevails in the regiment. It is certainly hard that there should be such a loss upon their trifling pay, and we trust that if possible some plan may be devised which will at least secure to the troops a full equivalent in value for what was promised when they enlisted. This has been done in California, and ought to be in Oregon.

FORT DALLES, April 9, 1863.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

We were rejoiced to see a notice in your paper of the 7th inst., stating that we were to be paid in specie, but our hopes were all blasted by the announcement in the issue of the 8th, that we might expect nothing but legal tenders. This is certainly hard, as it is well known that they are compensatory only in name. On this coast, they clear the Government of obligation, but the soldier cannot make them available for any practical purpose. He cannot even pay his debts at par, and thus escape the stain of dishonesty. The officers and some of the companies have been paid principally; this was right, and we do not complain. We have been and are again to be paid in greenbacks; this is wrong, and we do complain. All other classes have protection against depreciated currency except the soldier. The merchant takes it at a discount and saves himself, so does the Government contractor, or else he charges enough to make up the deficiency. But the soldier has to take it at a value it does not possess on this coast, and pass it, if he succeeds in passing it at all, at just what he can get.

In the States, it is the currency of the country and passes as such (I wish we were there for more important reasons than that). here it is not the circulating medium, and never will be. In all other States, also, the troops have extra compensation, hence they have less than what they enlisted for, and that in a depreciated currency. We are told that it is all speculation, that the money is good, etc., etc. This is no consolation to us. It does not raise its value any. If the legal tenders are to be made the basis of a moneyed aristocracy, the soldier is the stock in trade and the basis of speculation. We would not object to Treasury Notes less liable to such abuse.

The men of the regiment are as good as could have been raised on the coast—men who volunteered from pure motives—men the majority of whom are not only capable of making a livelihood, but of making money, out of the service,—men who sacrificed private interests for the public good when they volunteered, but they dislike to carry the sacrifice too far. They do feel aggrieved and in a manner wronged. Their State allows nothing for them, and their leaders appear to make no effort to redress their grievances. There is a growing state of dissatisfaction which will, I fear, result in demoralization. Could there be something done to secure the interest of the Oregon Volunteers and prevent disintegration?

You may do as you please with this letter; you are the editor of one of the leading journals of the State, and, as we believe you to take a deep interest in our welfare, should be made acquainted with our sentiments and circumstances. It would be a consolation for us to know that we had a patron and an advocate somewhere in Oregon.

Yours, respectfully, A VOLUNTEER.

WALLA WALLA ITEMS.—The following items we take from the Walla Walla Statesman of the 11th inst:

Travel has commenced over the trail from this city to Grand Ronde valley. The trail is in good condition, and henceforth will most likely be the only traveled route by parties going to the mines. The bridge across the Grand Ronde river is completed. This route shortens the distance from Walla Walla to Auburn about forty miles, the total distance being from 105 to 110 miles.

There was a very small turn out at the polls on Tuesday, owing mainly we suppose to the fact that there was but one ticket in the field. Only about half the votes of the city were polled. The following are the officers chosen for the ensuing year: Mayor, J. S. Craig; Recorder, E. L. Massey; Marshal, A. Seitel; Assessor, H. B. Lane; Treasurer, J. W. Cady; Councilmen, R. Guichard, A. Kyger, E. E. Kelly, S. Linkton, W. J. Terry; Surveyor, W. W. Johnson.

The steamer Kius made her first trip to Wallula on the 4th inst. She left Celilo 1 P. M. an hour behind the steamer Spray and beat that boat to Wallula one hour. Her capacity was not fully tested, and it is claimed that she is the fastest boat on the river. She made a trip to Lewiston this week and will hereafter run regularly between Celilo and that place.

The miners at Oro Fino have commenced work.

Passengers have been taken from Celilo to Wallula for $3 50.

The old emigrant road across the Blue mountains is now in a passable condition for teaming, and a number of wagons with light freights, have passed over it during the week.

Several of our farmers are making preparations to put in a considerable crop of tobacco in this valley the present season. Past experiments prove that this plant will grow well here.

The new mines on Engle creek are situated about equi-distant from the Grand Ronde and Powder river valleys—25 to 30 miles from either place.

The military movement for the plains and Boise will probably take place in about twenty days.

Good Cayuse horses are now selling at auction in this market at from sixteen to thirty dollars.

The steamer Tenino made her first trip for the season to Lewiston this morning.

LETTER OF MCCLERNAND.—Gen. John A. McClernand of Illinois, now with our army before Vicksburg, has addressed the subjoined patriotic letter to Mr. Van Buren:

BEFORE VICKSBURG, Feb. 22, 1863.

Hon. John Van Buren—An extract from your late speech has just come under my notice. It has the clear old-time ring, and contrasts so strikingly with the spurious emanations of latter-day democratic impostors, that I cannot forbear to hail it. It reminds me of the better days of the democratic party, when, under the inspirations of Jackson and your father, its honest watchword was: "The Union—it must be preserved." Responsively to that sentiment, I uphold the arms of both those magistrates to the extent of my ability, and at the sacrifice of home and its endearments, and am now bearing arms amidst disease and death against an armed enemy who would desecrate it.

Northern peace mongers, who would dishonor that sentiment by proclaiming an armistice in the face of a rebellious and defiant enemy, but add pusillanimity to treachery, and truly as you energetically say, "will be carried away," if not by "the torrent of public opinion, eventually by force of arms."

Yours, JOHN A. MCCLERNAND.

Serenade to Major General Sigel

Major General Sigel who recently came to New York to visit his family and enjoy a few days rest, on Saturday evening, February 28th visited the Turn Halle accompanied by his aids, Capt. Kouhern, Lyons and Dutton, and being recognized by the German citizens who were present, he was greeted with enthusiastic demonstrations, and called upon for a speech. The General in response, said:

Turners of New York! I thank you heartily for this cheering welcome, which is most gratifying to my feelings as a citizen, a soldier and a brother. I had hoped, as you doubtless remember, to take with me to the war the entire membership of the Turners' [illegible]. For satisfactory reasons, however, this could not be done. You have nevertheless sent as fine a regiment to the field as any other, which is as brave as any that ever wore a uniform. And they are ornaments to the service, as well as a credit to you, while they have been an honor to their adopted country, as they have reflected it upon the land of their birth. It has been the fortunate lot to be [illegible] in all the struggles for liberty, but never before did any concern them more than the one this country is engaged in now. You must sustain the arm of the best Government on earth, for its interests are your interests, and its success that of universal liberty. Those who are unable to go forth to the tented field [illegible] their best at home, and no matter how dark the present aspect of affairs may be, ultimate success must crown our efforts. Words are not battles, but words are good in their place, and I wish to put on record my words, as the sentiment of my heart, that as we are protected, cherished, nurtured by the beneficent institutions of this heaven-blessed nation, so are we bound, in common gratitude, and by every sentiment of honor and fealty to truth, to stand equally by it in its hour of trial, to assist in crushing its enemies, to uphold untarnished the purity of its honor, and to restore to its pristine glory the majesty of its flag." [Tremendous and long continued cheering.]

Later in the evening a number of German societies formed in procession at Turn Halle and proceeded to the residence of Gen. Sigel's father-in-law, Rev. Dr. Rudolph Dulon, and serenaded the General. After a variety of German airs had been sung, Mrs. and Gen. Sigel appeared at the window, and in response to calls by the assembled multitude, the General briefly addressed them. He said:

"My friends, I have not come here to receive honors, but as a plain soldier; but I am greatly rejoiced to see old acquaintances again, and to receive approbation at their hands. I love not war, and have not entered the army for the sake of its honors, but because I have come to the conclusion that every man who loves his adopted country must fight for it, and as I dearly love America I have done so. I do not love war, for I have seen too much of its horrors and cruelty ever to do so. You must remember that the war is not one that will last for years, but it is a war on which depends the life of the country, and upon which depends the fate of your own native country. If we should fail to obtain men enough to finish the war, where could there be found men enough to put down the threat of four Princes of Germany? [Applause.] Citizens of this free country, be not discouraged, and do not become disheartened, but remember that the soldier does not love the fatigue of picket duty, that he on his lonely post counts the seconds till relieved, so why should you be discouraged? See how those excellent men stand without grumbling. What the soldier stands the citizen must. Keep up the ship and do not desert it. You as Germans have a duty to sustain the Government by all means, for upon its success the future of your native land depends, and if our enemies should come out victorious, what would become of that dear land? Stand together, and prove the greatness of your mission. I have been gone too long from home to be able to discuss political questions, but they are of no importance at present, and I close and again thank you for this kind reception."

The General retired, but was again called out, and spoke a few words of thanks. The assemblage then separated.

A SOUTHERNER'S ARGUMENT FOR EMPLOYING NEGROES IN THE FEDERAL SERVICE.—A Georgian, writing to the Cincinnati Gazette on the subject of employing negroes in the Federal service, ridicules the sensitive opposition of "conservatives" to that course in the following effective style:

Let me see if I can't make the inconsistency of this class appear more plain. We will call our two neighbors Mr. North and Mr. South. The latter becomes jealous of the former, pretending to believe that he intends to override all his rights, take his negroes and set them free. South says nothing, but holds a fair face, works on in good faith (pretending) until he has succeeded in taking everything from neighbor North that is available in the way of defense, fortifying himself at home, and then commences throwing bombshells over in the midst of his neighbor North's great family, taking them completely by surprise. North has no alternative but to defend himself or surrender, and looks round for his weapons of defense. Lo! there are none. He calls on seventy five of his family to rally in self defense, when South exclaims in (pretended) holy horror, "Stop, that's not constitutional; you'll do yourself and us great injustice. We only want to be left alone; we are not going to be coerced nor subjugated." The fight continues, raging from neighbor South, and soon some of South's "black boys" are found on North's premises, who are at once put in close confinement. "Ah, there now, you are trampling the constitution under your feet, a perfect outrage to humanity—you have now suspended the writ of Habeas Corpus, a thing unknown in history (though Gen. Jackson did it at New Orleans)." Shell and shot continue to rain from South's breastworks, which the seventy five make the greatest preparations for self-defense in their power.

Meanwhile South's family, negroes and all, are forced to bear a part in the aggressive movements, although they would prefer to be on North's side. North sees all this, (or ought to,) but his dignity is insulted at the offer of the sons of Africa to aid him—he wants the glory of putting down the rebellion himself. South flies at his throat, threatens his family, and grasps it all. The negro comes to his rescue, but North bids him go back to the service of his master—cook, wash, dig trenches, etc., and resolves to take no "unconstitutional" advantages of South. He will fight without intrenchments and without cannon, and if he should whip his antediluvian adversary, he would be immortal forever. Such are the specious reasons of those who oppose the efforts of the Administration in putting down the rebellion.

GEN. JACKSON'S REVENGE.—The following is somewhat old, but will bear repetition:

During Jackson's term an application was made for the removal of some Postmaster, or deputy Postmaster, in one of the Northern States, and it was urged upon the President with a great deal of earnestness, first by letter, and then a special committee went to Washington, and remonstrated with great bitterness against the continuance of this violent political opponent of the President. To cap the climax, as the committee supposed, of the Postmaster's offenses and insure his removal, they told the President that the obnoxious officer had called General Jackson a "d—d grey headed [illegible]." "Did he," said the General. "Hold on! If I am not mistaken," said Jackson, "that man stormed Stony Point under Wayne, and any man who did that has my permission to be a Postmaster and to curse me for the balance of his life."

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City

New Map of the Gold Mines.—Mr S [illegible] McCormick, of the Franklin Book store, has placed before us a new map of the Mining region of Oregon and Washington Territory by Alonzo Leland Esq It [illegible] contains an interesting sketch of the mines, past and present, positive yield of gold assayers' returns description of routes, tables of distances and many other things which render it of much interest to the general reader and an invaluable pocket companion to the miner We find in it the certificates of Capt R Bledsoe an old mountaineer, and Mr E J Butler, who has thoroughly explored the regions laid down both of whom vouch for its correctness It is well worth the price asked and everybody should have one Call at McCormick's

Sailed.—The steamer Brother Jonathan sailed about half past six o'clock, last evening, for San Francisco via Victoria She took away a heavy freight and quite a number of passengers

Teachers in Public School.—The following named persons are at present engaged as teachers in the Public School John McBride Principal, Miss A E Way Assistant in higher department, and Miss Caroline King Assistant in primary department The former teachers, Mr and Mrs Frambes have taken charge of the Academy

Freight Shipped.—The following is the list of freight taken by the steamer Brother Jonathan, which sailed last evening 1 547 boxes apples, 80 sacks beans 17 boxes eggs 22 kegs lard, 378 hides, 2 bales wool, 9 cases lard ; 40 sacks flour

Shipment of Treasure.—The amount of treasure shipped to San Francisco by the Brother Jonathan is $21,657

Auction.—M Mansfield holds a large sale of crockery and groceries to-day

The Rebellion Has Touched Bottom.—While only one fourth of the able bodied white men of the loyal States between eighteen and forty-five capable of bearing arms have been drawn into the military service to put down the rebellion, we think it an established fact, from all the information we have [illegible] us, that the conscriptions of Jeff Davis have drained the rebellious States of all the able bodied white men between sixteen and fifty years of age which they can possibly spare without literally starving the rebel armies and the most of the population of the cotton States Press gangs in those States [illegible] up delinquent conscripts and refugees and military expeditions for the capture or extermination or expulsion of refractory Unionists, are the order of the day We might produce numerous specifications of such proceedings of late, from North Carolina to Arkansas, if we had the space for them We are satisfied that so far as the reinforcement of his army is concerned, Jeff Davis has touched bottom, and that we have only to break up the rebel armies now in the field in order to break up the rebellion, root and branch.—N. Y. Herald

Opinion in England.—The popular demonstrations in England, which have recently occurred in England, show conclusively that the English people accord with the people of the North on the subject of crushing the revolts Emancipation has struck the popular chord in Great Britain, and deprived the aristocracy of wealth and position there of all chance to wield the Government in favor of the South ern traitors We believe that hereafter even English commercial cupidity will be restrained by the majesty of the popular will Worthy matter for the serious reflection of all true [illegible] of republican institutions is found in the fact that the aristocratic families of Great Britain, and indeed the despots of all Europe, sympathise deeply with the traitors of the South, and show their sentiments by unmistakable acts. As a most satisfactory counterpoise to this state of things, those engaged in crushing aristocracy on this side of the Atlantic have the satisfaction of knowing that the people of Europe, wherever they understand the merits of the struggle, rejoice just as heartily over Federal successes as do the Union men of the North

We know lazy, shiftless, trifling devils, who never paid a dollar of taxes in their lives, who are howling twelve out of the twenty four hours about "the enormous taxes we are burdened with"

We know men, the seat of whose parta loons display the flag of distress at half mast, who could not buy the toe nail of a nigger if able bodied slaves were selling at a dollar a [illegible], who fly into a passion if they hear of an "attack upon slave property"

We know men who never did a days work in all their lives save when borrowing or stealing was impossible—who are howling like wolves against "niggers coming to Ohio to compete with the labor of poor white men"

We know men who never had an entire dollar in their lives, who spend hours in expatiating upon the dangers of a paper currency.

We know men who are utterly unable to read; who seldom if ever heard a sermon and yet are constantly asserting the divine origin of human slavery

There are queer people in the world Nine tenths of all the talk on the above topics is done by the classes above mentioned.—B[illegible] State

Colonel Ellet.—Young Col Ellet, who has run past the rebel batteries at Vicksburg and engaged the rebels from under the guns of the batteries commands as much public admiration as his father the late Col Ellet who originated the Mississippi ram fleet, and performed many daring feats with it The elder Colonel Ellet was a civil engineer but his son studied medicine as a profession but proves himself fitted for a more daring and [illegible] career He is a native of Philadelphia and only 26 years of age

On Saturday last, a wagon containing a man and his wife and infant child, while ascending the big hill in the Canyon was turned over, throwing the occupants violently down the hill instantly killing the child in its mother's arms The mother and father were slightly injured Our informant had forgotten the name of the family They were from California bound for the Northern mines —Sentinel, April 8

Col. Gilbert who dispersed a rebel convention in Kentucky recently, saying I will permit no such assemblage as this within the limits of my command is a nephew of Gen Cass, and since the organization of the Republican party has been a Democrat of the strongest brand

UNION VS BUTTERNUT—RAILROAD INCIDENT—The following is from a correspondent of the Wheeling (Ohio) Intelligencer

A few days since, it was my fortune to be traveling on the Ohio and Mississippi rail road. When near Vincennes, an incident occurred which produced quite an excitement and at one time threatened a tragedy.

Seated near me were two Kentuckians, and a Pennsylvanian, who was a river pilot. The Kentuckians were of the butternut style of patriots, and the Pennsylvania pilot was one of the same persuasion—only more open and defiant in his denunciation of the President and the policy of the Government. The Kentuckians appeared greatly to enjoy the outspoken treason of the pilot, and treated him to some apple brandy, which they carried with them to lessen the tedium of travel.

There happened to be in the cars a sergeant, who was sick, and on his way home on sick furlough.

He was a tall, intelligent looking fellow, with fine brown eyes, whose wasted cheeks only made more marked and lustrous. This man soon became a deeply interested listener to the blatant treason of the three rebel sympathizers, and after struggling against his feeling of indignation for some time, he rose from his seat, approached the party of which the Pennsylvanian was taking the lead, and addressed him in language like this

"Now, sir, I have been listening to your treason about long enough, and you must stop! We are in a state of war, and if there's no martial law in Illinois, I'll make it very quick. I have been in the army fifteen months—left a comfortable home. I have endured storm and hunger in trying to quell this rebellion and preserve the Union. I have been prostrated by disease, and am now unable to discharge the duties of a soldier. I am going home to recruit my health if possible, and intend to return and fight it out to the bitter end. But, sir, I have ten times more respect for the men at whom I have been shooting in Tennessee and Mississippi than I have for you, and men like you—cowardly sneaks who remained at home, afraid to go into the army, but who are now fomenting discontent and producing discord among the people of the North, by uttering just such treason as you have been uttering here—and, sir, you must stop it at once, or I'll put daylight through you so quick you won't know what's the matter."

The soldier, by this time had approached close to the pilot and looked him full in the face, with flashing eye and such a determined manner that many of us sprang to our feet to interpose. There were two other sick soldiers—brothers—in the car, and when they saw the movement of the sergeant, cried, "Go in, soldier, and if you need any help, we're good for two more of that sort," (alluding to the neutral patriots from Kentucky.) The calm, determined bearing of the sergeant said plainly, "No room for trifling here," and had done its work upon the pilot, who was a large, powerful man, and could have crushed the invalid sergeant with scarcely an effort. Consciousness of being in the wrong, and rebuked by a man who had evidently periled his life for his country—his cowardly spirit quailed, and his traitorous tongue was silent!

A hum of applause ran all through the car, and the sick soldier, although not able to perform duty for his country in the field, did in this instance render his country some service in rebuking the cowardly treason which stabs in the dark!

AN AFRICAN CONSERVATIVE ON THE YANKEES.—A friend relates to us an amusing incident connected with the great celebration of Monday, in this place. An old house servant of one of our very aristocratic rebel families, who hates "Lincolnites" and "poor white trash" as heartily as Jeff. Davis does, was walking slowly along the square as the grand procession was forming. Soldiers were moving about in great numbers, the cavalry galloping to and fro, regiments were forming to the sound of lively music, citizens and visitors thronged the sidewalks, children ran about with banners, and thousands of flags fluttered like fragments of rainbows, from the various buildings. The conservative contraband paced slowly along, rolling his distended eyes in all directions, apparently overwhelmed by the exhibition and bustle around him. Approaching our friend, he exclaimed "My God! what are we Southern folks coming to? Master said, a year ago, dat de Yankees done gone away for ever. Now dey is swarming about thicker dan locusses. Dey runs dere boats on our river, dey pressin' all our niggers; dey livin' in our houses; dey drivin' our wagons; dey ringin' our bells; dey confiscatin' our property; dey eatin' up our meat and corn, dey done killed up mos all of our men; and, 'fore God, I spec dey are gwine to marry all our widders!" And heaving a deep groan from the bottom of his continental waistcoat he shook his head in sadness, and passed slowly onward, to the joyful chimes of the church bells and the soul stirring strains of "Yankee Doodle."—Nashville Union, Feb 28th.

"GOIN' PERMISKUS"—During the time when Kirby Smith was supposed to be beleaguering Cincinnati, the colored population were in a condition of agitation not second in demonstrativeness to that prevailing among white folks. An incident took place at one of their "war meetings," which should be recorded. The able-bodied colored men were debating the propriety of tendering their services to the Government as volunteers for the war. The prevailing impression had been that they ought to do it, and their patriotic emotions were at high African temperature. But before the vote was taken, a tall and very black fellow produced a sudden revulsion of feeling by delivering himself as follows:—"I'm in favor of goin', and will go in a minnit, if we go permiskus with white men. I'll tell you why I'm for goin' permiskus. If we go permiskus we'll have fair play. But let 'em get a reg'ment all of niggers, and they put 'em in de fore front of de battle, and bose sides kill every one of 'em. I say so, sah, (rolling his eyes around the audience) and I ain't goin' dat way, sah. I ain't goin' a step, 'less I go permiskus. No sah." And the able and eloquent Ethiopian subsided, and a solemn sensational pause followed. The eyes of the assembled darkies snapped white and wild at the idea that to go in any other way than "permiskus" was certain death. And as they thought the chances of "goin' permiskus" were not brilliant, the meeting adjourned without action.

A SURE REMEDY.—Much has been said about the "happy despatch" of the Japanese. But the Chinese despatch a poor wretch in a somewhat unhappy manner. A letter dated Shanghae, states that a keeper of an eating house in that city had a few days before charged a visitor with eating a quantity of rice not paid for, when an angry dispute arose. A mandarin was sent for, who ordered the victim to be ripped open to ascertain whether he swallowed the food. It was done and no rice found. A false charge had been made, and to put things right, according to the Chinese idea, the head of the accuser was quickly taken off, when the magistrate was ready for another job.

PROMOTED.—Samuel Kip, of the army, formerly stationed at Fort Vancouver, has been made Captain by brevet from May 5, 1862 and Major by brevet from 1st July, for gallant conduct.

LEGAL.

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY PERSON shall pay on all net profits [illegible] from any source whatever. A person is allowed to deduct [illegible] legally assessed National, State [or] County Taxes, [illegible] help, Rents, Drayage, &c. [illegible] business, but no farmer in rebate [illegible] any person has a right to deduct his own labor [illegible] from his income.

The Income Tax is to be paid [illegible] year commencing January 1st, 1862, [illegible] December 31st, 1862, every [illegible] of their income gained [illegible] from all sources of income, such as [illegible] Bonds and Stocks, Insurance Stock, [illegible] est, &c., (they having already paid the income tax [illegible]) and again taxed. It therefore [illegible] a clear record of the sources of income, that there may be no dispute with the Assessor.

All corporations must deduct the three per cent [illegible] before declaring their dividends.

For Example:

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year and pay the tax on the amount [illegible] $600.

A man may outside of his business spend all and even more than his profits in the business [illegible] must pay tax on all nett business profits [illegible] so with a salary all over $600 must be taxed [illegible] personal or family expenses [illegible] all.

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is to be [illegible] on the first day of May 1863, and is to be paid [illegible] the 30th June 1863. And any sums due and [illegible] paid for thirty days after the 30th June, as aforesaid [illegible] days after demand by the Collector [illegible] added to the amount unpaid.

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make his income separately.

PROSPECTUS.

THE UNDERSIGNED TAKE PLEASURE IN announcing to the citizens of Dalles City, Wasco County, and the public generally of Oregon and Washington Territory, that on or about Monday, the 6th day of April, we will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper at Dalles City, Oregon, to be called the

"DEMOCRATIC STATE JOURNAL."

The JOURNAL will be devoted to the interest of the principles and augmentation of the Democratic organization upon the basis of the State and National platforms of that party, upon which the late glorious victories in the great States of New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and New Jersey were achieved, and of which such [illegible] and patriotic statesmen as Seymour and Richardson are the champions and defenders. It shall be the aim of the JOURNAL to aid the Democratic party unswervingly, by speaking the truth and discussing public measures freely, fully and fearlessly, without hope or expectation of favor or reward, other than the proud satisfaction of doing the duty of an American Citizen.

Due and ample attention will be paid to the mining interest, by chronicling all information of discoveries and operations in the extensive and gradually developing gold fields East of the Cascade Mountains. To secure early, full and reliable intelligence upon this important branch of industry, arrangements have been perfected which will secure to the JOURNAL authentic and regular correspondence from all the different localities attracting public attention. The interest of the State both general and local will receive prominent attention. In a word we are determined to publish a journal that may be perused with profit by all.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints.

EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, MISS., Feb. 7, 1856.

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill and commend your medicine to our people.

HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Yours, with gratitude and regard,

ORLANDO SHELBY, OF SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all round us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use, and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.
